DETAILED ACTION

Remarks

In response to applicant's request for a Continued Prosecution Application (CPA), dated March 7, 2001, the examiner has entered the amendment previously filed on January 26, 2001.

In the amendment, the applicant amended the independent claims 1 and 11 to include the limitation wherein "...said scent generator housed in a case which is adapted to be worn by said user thereby making said system portable." Furthermore, the applicant makes the argument (page 4, 2nd paragraph of Amendment) that "...this portability aspect of the present invention clearly distinguishes it from the reference relied on in the Office Action." The examiner maintains that Martin (US 5,610,674) does disclose wherein the scent generator is housed in a case. (See Figure 2, ref.# 64). However, the examiner acknowledges that Martin (US 5,610,674) does not disclose that the scent generator's case is "...adapted to be worn by said user thereby making the system portable." Thus, the examiner withdraws the 35 U.S.C. 102(b) rejection of claims 1-14 as being anticipated by Martin (US 5,610,674). However, the examiner maintains that the added limitation of portability would be obvious in light of Martin (US 5,610,674). (See 35 U.S.C. 103(a) section below).

Art Unit: 2851

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Martin (US 5,610,674)

Martin (US 5,610,674) discloses all the structure set forth in the claims (see Office Action mailed December 8, 2000), except for the newly added limitation of claims 1 and 11, wherein "...said scent generator housed in a case which is adapted to be worn by said user thereby making said system portable." However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the limitation wherein "...said scent generator housed in a case which is adapted to be worn by said user thereby making said system portable," since it has been held that making an old device portable or movable without producing any new and unexpected result involves only routine skill in the art. In re Lindberg, 93 USPQ 23 (CCPA 1952).

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:

Knight (US 5,522,253); Blasdell, et al. (US 45,419,317); Huang (US 5,243,972); and Cotner, et al. (US 6,019,101) each disclose a "portable scent delivery system." Note: These references were made of record in a previous Office Action.
